COME AND SEE US.

HEADQUARTERS LEE, STATE CENTRAL COM.,
JANESVILLE, WIS., JULY 25, 1884.

The Republican State Central Committee has opened convention and commodious headquarters on Wisconsin street, near the postoffice, in its new building. All republicans, and especially those of our own state, are cordially invited to call upon the committee. All republican papers published in the state, and many of the leading journals of the country, will be kept on file. Come and see us.
H. A. TAYLOR, CHM.
C. PATRICK, SEC.

Will some democratic paper kindly publish Mr. Tilden's congratulatory telegram to Mr. Cleveland?

The rush still continues for republican loaded wagons. It is like the old ship of Zion, there is still room for more.

This is the year of jubilee for fresh poets. When they can't get their work in on Spring, they usually succeed in a campaign.

The republican procession this full will be the largest ever known. The democrats will feel like taking off their hats as it passes.

The cry of the New York Sun before the democratic convention was, "turn the rascals out." Since Cleveland has been nominated, the cry has been changed to "keep the rascals out."

Mr. Carl Schurz said in his address to the independents, "The paramount issue of the presidential election of this year is moral rather than political." That is what the republican party thinks, and that is the reason Cleveland will be defeated.

The country has heard from the old pastors of Blaine and Logan, and they give the boys excellent certificates of character. Well, the country is hearing from the pastors of Buffalo, about Cleveland, and for decency sake it is hoped they have told all they know.

The strongest point made in favor of Cleveland, is by the Cincinnati Enquirer: "Dear in mind, before citizens, that you elect Mr. Cleveland, and there is anybody to be hanged and no one to do it, the president can step right out and attend to it himself without extra charge."

The report from Taunton hall is that John Kelly and the members of the organization will support Cleveland. This is all the better for the republicans. New York can be carried without Kelly, which will make the victory in November all the more splendid for the republican party.

John P. St. John has accepted the prohibition nomination for the presidency. Some of the delegates remaining at Pittsburg claim that they can carry Kansas and Maryland and throw the election into congress. What they would prefer to do would be to throw the election into the hands of the democratic party.

Dr. Koob, the celebrated cholera physician, is 41 years old. He lives in Germany, and as he has been in practice but 18 years it will be seen that he can not have had much practical experience with the cholera epidemic. However, he had the reputation of knowing more than any one else about the disease, and gave advice rather than aid at the time when cholera was starting all Europe. He says that four never produces the disease.

A democrat in New York thinks Mr. Cleveland should resign the office of governor. That democrat, like thousands of others of his party, has a spite against Cleveland. He wants him to get out of office at once as that will be the end of him politically. Stephen should hold to what he has got. He won't get anything more. But if he really wants to please a majority of the democratic party, he might decline the presidential nomination. That would take a load off the shoulders of the democracy.

Mr. W. H. Barnum, has been re-elected chairman of the national democratic committee. Mr. Barnum deserves this mark of recognition. He has done much for the democracy. He hired the forged Money letter to be written in 1880. He telegraphed in 1880, "send seven more mules to Indiana," which meant to make a certain bid for the vote of that state. Mules won't save the democratic party this year. They can't run in enough in Indiana to pull the tail of the ticket in that state. The experience of four years ago will probably teach Mr. Barnum that mules are stubborn things, and don't count much when the republicans are making the campaign lively.

A street-car driver of New York has written a letter to Governor Cleveland's veto of the bill to reduce the hours of work for car-men from 10 to 12 hours, and here is his strong point: "When Governor Cleveland is sleeping in the morning I am at work. When he is attending to his duties during the day I am at work. When he goes to a place of amusement in the evening I am at work, and when he retires to rest at night I am still working. I have a little girl five months old, and during my working days I have never seen her smile, never saw her dark blue eyes, and never hold her in my arms awake but twice, and yet this is a christian land! Governor Cleveland's veto has condemned us to a life in which there is no hope, no joy, and no chance for improvement."

Some of the democratic papers have a queer way of giving Cleveland support. The Cincinnati Enquirer, the leading democratic paper of that city, publishes in full the disgusting and scandalous stories about Cleveland's private life. His licentiousness was laid out in full view of the democratic readers of the Enquirer, but it seemed to make amends by printing an editorial in which it claimed that the private character of Cleveland had been vindicated. Stabbing at its own candidate with one hand and then putting salt into the wound with the other is the plan adopted by a good many democratic papers which see the force of nominating such a man as Cleveland for the presidency.

The last number of Harper's Weekly prints an extra sheet in the attempt to prove that it is consistent in its opposition to Blaine. It publishes a series of cartoons in which Mr. Blaine is held up to ridicule for his attitude on the Chinese question and for certain phases of his foreign policy. It neglects, however, to reproduce the cartoon which appeared in the Harper's on the 19th of May, 1876, when the scandal-mongers were seeking to destroy his reputation. That cartoon represented Mr. Blaine as surrounded by fountains of prey, and as throttling them with his strong arm and plucking their feathers. It was designed to illustrate his triumph over false accusations and unconverted brigades, and was accompanied on another page by an article from Mr. Curtis's pen vindicating Mr. Blaine's character from the outrageous assault made upon it. If the Harper's Weekly wants to be consistent, let it reproduce that cartoon and also the editorials at the time defending Mr. Blaine's character and praising his statesmanship.

The Irish Nation has taken a position that it can not recede from in this campaign. It claims that the nomination of Cleveland was the triumph of corrupt rings, and a direct insult to the Irish, the workmen, and to all anti-monopolists. It also declares in double-headed type that the intellect of the party was pushed aside to make room for a dull and plodding country lawyer, who is the merest tool of an illiberal and corrupt ring, having no affinity with the able men whom the party loved to honor in the past, and whose dark and devious methods are a disgraceful parody on the statesmanship which once ruled the councils of the democracy. The Irish Nation then proclaims the duty of fresh men to be this:

"IRISHMEN OF SPIRIT HAVE NO CHOICE. CLEVELAND MUST BE DEFEATED, AND THE ONLY WAY TO DO THAT EFFECTUALLY IS BY VOTING FOR JAMES G. BLAINE FOR PRESIDENT. LET US ORGANIZE FOR THE FIGHT AND CHASE NO-THINGISM FOR ALL TIME."

"Manton," said Mr. Cleveland to Mr. Marble when the latter went to Albany to look after the moral health of the democratic candidate, "when you write my letter of acceptance, I wish you would make it a little longer than Blaine's. You see our platform is longer than theirs, and you know we want to keep ahead of the republicans." I never saw such a man as Blaine," said Mr. Marble. "You see he has said everything there is to be said. He has covered the whole field. All the issues have been met. He has made all the points, and blast it, how can a fellow beat him?" "Well," happily answered Mr. Cleveland, "you know we have both sides of the tariff question to argue. Blaine only had one. We have got to support free trade and make a show of favoring protection. You can do that nicely by getting Henry Waterson to help you. Make it strong for free trade, and that will please the independent; and be sure to make it ring for protection and that will tickle Randall. Just touch civil service enough to make the reformers smile, but throw but enough to the old members of the party to make them work vigorously for the spoils. Don't say anything about the democratic record because that would offend the Currys and bid give Butler a dig in the ribs and poke a little fun at Kelly and Grady. I guess we had better not say anything about polygamy because that's a sort of a church affair, and that doesn't concern the democratic party." Mr. Marble was about to leave the presence of the good governor, when the latter placed a five-dollar bill in his hand and said, "Now Manton, make the letter strong and don't be hampered for space, for I want my first opportunity to express my opinions on public questions to be the greatest effort of my life."

THE PROHIBITION MOVEMENT.

No one will doubt the sincerity of the men and the women who met in Pittsburg the other day to nominate a prohibition candidate for president. Their motives are doubtless good, but the judgment of the country will be that their methods are not wise or practical. It may be laid down as a rule that any political movement that tends to weaken the party of progress and intelligence is a bad thing for the country. It is not only bad in a political sense, but it is decidedly bad in a reform sense. Temperance reform can never be secured by organizing a national prohibition party. It is impossible for prohibition to come in that way. The intemperate drink which too much whiskey distilling produces can never be checked by defeating republicans and electing democrats to office. It requires no argument to substantiate this statement.

Prudence is demanded in dealing with the subject of prohibition. It requires that wisdom which the Master charged his disciples to carry with them when they went out into the world to meet the flesh and the devil. They were to be as "wise as serpents and harmless as doves," and by this means they met the common enemy of mankind and worked wonders. Lincoln once said a very sober thing in a speech he made at his home in Springfield: "If we could first know we are, and whether we are tending, we could better judge what to do and how to do it." This is the common sense view of the struggle now going on in regard to temperance. If the prohibitionists would take a sober view of the present situation of political affairs, as well as of the condition of temperance, they would clearly see that weakening the republican party and giving strength and comfort to the democratic party, in taking two steps backward to one forward in temperance reform.

It is very safe to say that the time will never come when prohibition can be made a practical national question. States can contest the matter if they wish, but congress never can. The place for the friends of temperance reform to work, therefore, is the states, as in Maine, Iowa, and Kansas. This is the only hope for legal prohibition. Any other movement looking toward the suppression of liquor traffic will retard rather than advance such a movement.

The Great Argument, Marcus Aurelius Antoninus, "A May No," The Hiss Mace, Tommy Connor, Lord Macaulay, George Eliot.

One reads with astonishment, on the title-page of this book, the titles of the author, and that he is "Professor of Modern Media and Therapeutics, Medical department, University of New York." For it seems almost incredible that a person who has attained eminence in the medical profession, and has been engaged daily in teaching it, should have had the time and strength left for producing such a learned contribution to the theological literature of the day as this is. The argument of the work is that the most convincing proof of the truth of Christianity is the marvelous organic oneness of the Old and New Testaments, and the thread of prophecy concerning the advent and work of Jesus Christ, which runs through the Old and finds its fulfillment in the facts recorded in the New. The reality of these prophecies is much disputed by skeptics and even by some religiousists, and Dr. Thorne, with uncommon learning, seeks to discover and interpret them, and so to establish their reality and, of course, the reality of Christianity.

COME, GENTLEMEN!

You have for years BLACKLINED and UNDERVALUED PURE, WHOLESOME and BETTER BAKING POWDERS than your own—the "Royal." By blacklines, alleged "Government Chemists" who do not exist, and under the garb of "absolutely pure" you have forced into unsuspecting families a powder which contains the active drug AMMONIA. Eminent physicians and chemists condemn its use in articles of daily food. You cannot longer evade the issue, AMMONIA. The public will compel you to defend its use.

DO NOT TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT.

Every housekeeper can prove the truth of our statements by placing a can of the "Royal," top down, on a hot stove until heated, then remove the cover and smell "AMMONIA." This test will show that the "Royal" contains AMMONIA; that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia. The strength of our powder can be proven by the consumer's reliable test.

THE TEST OF THE OVEN.

In my opinion "DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER" IS SUPERIOR to the "Royal Baking Powder" IN EVERY RESPECT.

—A company of Blaine and Logan "Invincibles" was organized last night in this city. There are men enough, of pronounced republican principles in Janesville, to organize several more companies, and they ought to "fall in," and thus organize a battalion or regiment.

—The Sunday school picnic of the First M. E. church, at Pope's Springs yesterday, was well attended. Some of the picnicers became frightened in the afternoon, fearing a rain storm, and returned home, but those remaining at the spring enjoyed a very pleasant time, returning home between seven and eight o'clock in the evening.

—The alarm of fire at a quarter to four o'clock this afternoon, was caused by an incipient fire at the tannery on River street, above the railroad bridge. The fire department quickly responded, but the fire was extinguished before their arrival. The fire caught in the roof, forming a defective line, and the only damage resulted in the loss of a few shingles and a sign.

—The members of Olive Branch lodge, A. O. U. W., held a special meeting last evening, and decided to celebrate their sixth anniversary on Tuesday next, July 20th by a picnic at Pope's Springs. This party will be for members of the order and their families only. Smith & Corlies orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion, and the steamer Enterprise will transport the party to and from the Springs.

—The real estate firm of Wheeler & Stevens has sold the farm of Mrs. George Bemis, of town of Rock, to Mr. Daniel Ryan, of Hanover, for the sum of $10,000. The farm consists of 240 acres, and is one of the best farms in that township. The success of this firm in selling valuable farm and city property, is quite remarkable. But, it all comes by knowing how to manage the business skillfully. In this respect the firm of Wheeler & Stevens cannot be surpassed.

—Last evening about nine o'clock while John L. Sullivan (Dick) was in the city, he was quizzed by the third at the Peabody house watering trough on Bluff street, the fact seized the elegant looking animal that a new trough had been prepared for the use of equines at the town pump on the corner of the corn exchange square, and thinking that it was quite likely he might be registered as the first man to take a drink from the new trough. Quick as a (mule) thought, Sullivan wheeled the cart, and went legging it for the corn exchange, but Joe Hennessy spied him, coming upon the bridge, and Joe being a swifter runner than Sullivan, the race was concluded at the west end of the bridge, where a dozen or more men yelled "whoa!" hearing which, Sullivan got bewildered and allowed Hennessy to "catch on" to the bit and the fun was ended, without damage. Sullivan lost his drink, while Hennessy won.

With baking powders as with drinking and cooking water, housekeepers go by experience. The place to prove Dr. Price's Baking Powder is by the true test—the test of the oven.

The Board of Health.
 A special meeting of the board of health was held last evening in the city hall, for the purpose of adopting measures to rid the city of numerous nuisances.

Mayor Alex. Richardson, president of the board, occupied the chair. Health Officer Dr. O. P. Robinson, and Aldermen J. B. McLean, W. G. Palmer and M. C. Smith being present. The absent members were Aldermen C. A. Potter, and S. B. Kenyon.

Health Officer Robinson called the attention of the members to the numerous hog pens located in the city, which he termed public nuisances, and suggested that the board order all persons, tolerating such nuisances to abate them at once. The first pigpen to receive special attention was that owned by Mr. Peter Myers, located in the rear of the Myers house. It was ordered that notice be served on Mr. Myers to remove the nuisance within forty-eight hours after serving of notice.

The board decided to order the removal of all pig pens in the city, and all other public nuisances.

The board discussed other subjects relating to the sanitary condition of the city, but without reaching further conclusion the board adjourned.

Prevent sickness by taking occasional doses of Emory's Little Cathartic Pills. A wonderful appetizer, an absolute cure of biliousness—15 cents.

Personal.
 —Miss Edie Kilbourne, of the Union Signal, Chicago, is visiting friends in this city.

—Mrs. Ed. E. Carpenter, of the third ward, went to Berlin to-day, on a visit with friends.

—Dr. S. A. Pond, wife and daughter, Miss Edie Pond, are away on a pleasure trip to Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and Manitoba.

—Mr. Charles Homming, who went out last spring with the Barr Robbins' show, has returned, failing only of being back by his hosts of friends.

—Mrs. H. C. Hadley, and daughter, Laura, arrived last night from Topeka, Kansas, and are visiting Mrs. Hadley's mother, Mrs. M. R. Brooks, of the third ward.

—Professor H. L. Chase and wife, of Lynn, Massachusetts, are in the city, the guests of Mr. B. H. Baldwin, Lynn street fourth ward. Prof. Chase is superintendent of schools in Lynn, and is on his return home from attending the education convention in Madison and a visit to the northwest. The professor wielded the birch on "Barks" book in years gone by, which accounts in part for his (Barks) good behavior.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Dickey, of Spring Valley, go east on Monday. In Chicago they will meet Mr. D. N. Richardson (and family) of the Davenport (Iowa) Democrat. On Tuesday they will leave Chicago for Niagara Falls, the Thousand Islands, Montreal, and New England, where they will spend a couple of months among relatives, and (as Mr. Dickey puts it) among "the scenes of my childhood." May they have a pleasant time.

—This morning quite a delegation from our fire department went to Milwaukee to see the sights in the Cream City. The squad was in charge of Assistant Engineer Chas. Horn. The party will return home on the early train Monday morning.

Among the party boarding the cars this morning, we noticed Assistant Engineer Ows. Horn, James A. Fathers, W. G. Metcalf, William Goldsborough, William Wilson, Charles Eller, William M. Gee, B. Eldred, Levi Canfield, Arthur Ott, Arthur Olson, John Ose, W. H. Barrag, L. M. Nelson, Charles Ott, Harry Merritt, Frank Eller, R. Griffiths, William Longshore, John Bauman, Gus Zerbel. They will have a good time.

—Dr. J. W. St. John, who left Janesville on the 25th of last January for the Coast of Alene mountains in Idaho, with Messrs. H. S. Hogoboom and C. B. Withington, returned home this morning, looking in the best of health, but much lighter in weight than when he left. The Doctor was most cordially welcomed back to his native city, and reports plenty of gold in the Coeur d'Alene district, but that it will require much labor to secure it. The great drawback to successful mining is the scarcity of water, which will have to be carried to the diggings by a flume, eighteen miles in length, which is now being constructed. The gold is found in deep diggings, and in the hills, and requires a great amount of labor to secure it. The camp at present is very dull, owing to large claims taken by the miners, 20 acres each, and the litigation going on regarding claims, which will not be settled before fall. The Janesville people, who were not of the Doctor's party, are in the mines. Raven, the location of the Janesville party, is a small mining camp, of and to two hundred people. Dr. St. John will not return, and Mr. Withington may be expected home at any time, while Mr. Hogoboom will probably remain until fall.

Origin of Ammonia.
 Ammonia is obtained in large quantities by the putrefaction of the urine of animals. Encyclopedia Britannica.

Every housekeeper can test baking powders containing this disgusting drug by placing a can of "Royal" or "Andrews' Pearl" top down on a hot stove until heated, then remove the cover and empty into a glass of water. If it contains ammonia, it will give off a strong odor. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Alum, Lime, Potash, Bone Phosphates. Prove it by the above test. It is prepared by a Physician and Chemist with special regard to cleanliness and healthfulness.
